
Examples of plate reconstruction by each model under three angular difficulty levels. Columns increase in geometric distortion; dashed line separates reference rows (top) from model outputs.